

I had been a subscriber to XM and am still currently a share holder. I feel that through the merger I will financially prosper through this merger but as an XM subscriber I would lose out through this merger by reduced services and increasing price of subscription.